AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER." Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,

Mrs. EMMA GEDNEY."

159 West 12th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE."

Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."

Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that if its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRAGDON."

Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

How the Czar is Crowned.

The Assumption is the Cathedral of Rheims, the Westminster Abbey of Russia. Here the Emperors are crowned, and here is preserved the ancient throne of the Czars in carved wood, known as the throne of Vladimir-Monomaque. The pillars, arches, and walls of this church, which was built from beginning to end by Italian architects in 1455, are ornamented by large Byzantine images of long-bearded saints, whose heads are shown upon a background of gold. The holy personages in their purple garments look like a procession of Asiatic potentates, silent and stern.

The iconostasis of the Assumption is a dazzling wall of jewelry, a fabulous display of gold, of precious stones, of pearls, and diamonds. To this wonderful wall are suspended miraculous images of great antiquity—virgins with dark eyes and brown skins that belonged to grand dukes and were brought from Novgorod, Pskof, Kiew, and Constantinople. Their halos are constellated with precious stones that twinkle like stars and shine like red sparks. Upon their garments and dalmaties of gold, topazes, sapphires, emeralds, and rubies display marvelous embroideries that encircle each other like garlands of flowers. The miraculous image of the Virgin of Vladimir that orthodox piety attributes to St. Luke wears a diamond necklace valued at 200,000 roubles. Emeralds as large as nuts are set in the massive golden crown of this Virgin.

Close to the iconostasis a canopy covers the chair of the Patriarch, and in front of it a velvet tent marks the place of the Emperor. Lamps of Silver and vermillion with flickering lights, and great wax candles with their steady and soft jets, are not sufficient to awaken the obscurity that sleeps under the somber vaults of the old cathedral.

The ceremonies of the coronation take place in this church with a pomp and splendor that are peculiarly Oriental. Before the Czar arrives the high priests with the cross, assisted by two deacons carrying holy water in a basin of gold, sprinkle the passage that the Emperor is about to take. Then, arranging themselves upon the steps that surround the imperial platform, surmounted by a canopy of crimson velvet with tassels and fringes of gold, come the grand dukes and grand duchesses, all the members of the imperial family, the diplomatic corps, the high dignitaries of the empire, senators in red uniforms, ministers bedizened with badges and cordons, marshals in brilliant uniforms, ladies of the court, and young ladies of honor in the national costume, including the kakkochnik (a golden diadem embroidered in gold or pearls), representatives of the merchants of all the cities of the empire, most of them in blue or black gowns fringed in gold, deputations from Asiatic peoples allied to or subjects of the Emperor, Chinese, Mongolians, Tartars, Baskirs, Kalmuks, Khirgees, Boukhara, Circassians, Georgians, Mingrelians, Laplanders, Esquimaux, Persians, Turks—a strange and wild mixture of different races, half clad, and armed, some with bows or lances, others with yatagans with silver handles, or swords with wooden hilts rudely carved.

This dazzling and picturesquely procession advances, preceded by a platoon of guards of honor, with cuirasses of red cloth starred with silver, and by two mounted heralds with gold embroidered brocades, red velvet caps, and maces. The Imperial arms, borne by high functionaries, are placed at the left of the throne upon a table with a cover of gold. Grouped in front of the church under the portal draped with velvet, the clergy, with crosses and miters, are resplendent in their chasubles and dalmaties, sparkling with gems. The Metropolitans, led by the Metropolitan of Kiew, holding cersters, await the arrival of the Emperor.

At last the Czar appears. He descends the Red Staircase upon which a Persian carpet, flowered with roses, is placed. He wears the uniform of a general of division, with red trousers, and he walks under a large canopy that puts over his head a flock of golden eagles in a blue sky.

The Metropolitan of Moscow presents him the cross to kiss, while the Metropolitan of Novgorod sprinkles him with holy water. The princes of the church conduct the Czar to the throne. Then the Metropolitan of Moscow approaches his imperial Majesty and presents him with the orthodox profession of faith, which the Czar reads aloud, standing with his hand upon the guard of his sword. After reading he receives the two Metropolitans of Kiew, who ascend the steps of the throne and bring him the coronation mantle. The Czar takes it from their hands and places it upon his shoulders. Then he bows before the Metropolitan of Moscow, who places his hand over him and recites a prayer.

Finally, the Czar arises, majestic and superb, dressed in his mantle of brocade lined with ermine, and, taking the imperial crown sparkling with diamonds, he places it with his own hands upon his head. At this moment the Empress advances and kneels before her august spouse, who, taking off his crown, holds it instant over the forehead of the Czarina in token of her share in his omnipotence.

In the courtyard of the Kremlin the canons thunder. The three hundred churches of Moscow ring their joy bells, and the vaults of the old cathedral are filled with songs of gladness and of triumph.

The mass begins. The silver doors of the iconostasis are opened. The Archbishops of Novgorod and of Kiew approach the Emperor and inform him that all is ready for the anointment. The Czar descends from his throne. The Empress accompanies him to the door of the sanctuary, the threshold of which no woman can cross. The Metropolitan of Moscow then dips in the vase that contains the holy oil the golden branch that he holds in his hand, and anoints the temples, the eyelids, the nostrils, the lips, the breast, and the hands of the Czar while uttering the words, "Behold the seal of the Holy Ghost." And after each holy unction the Metropolitan of Novgorod wipes away the traces. The ancient Czars for seven days used not to wash the parts of their bodies that had thus been anointed.

Conducted to the altar, the Czar partakes of the communion, while the Empress, still kneeling at the door of the iconostasis, receives also the communion from the Metropolitan of Kiew. With the crown upon his head, the new Czar departs through the north portal, passes through a double row of Cossacks armed with lances, and of Grenadiers with gilded helmets, and amid the applause of the populace enters the Cathedral of the Archangel St. Michael, where he kisses the holy images, after which he re-enters the ancient palace by the Red Staircase.

The repast of the coronation is given in the Terem. The Emperor and the Empress, served by the marshals of the court, eat alone. The superior officers, headed by the chief marshal and escorted by officers of the guards with drawn swords, bring in the dishes that the Metropolitan blesses one after the other. When the Czar wants to drink, the diplomatic corps retires, walking backward, and singers in gala costume, with swords by their sides, advance and execute, during the rest of the repast, different pieces of the old Russian repertoire.—Journal de Rome.

STRAWBERRIES at $2.75 a quart are eaten at New York.

In 1882, 4,557 suits for divorce were brought in Ohio.

Five hundred houses were destroyed or overturned by the flood at Albany, Ind.

It is said that 90,000 persons were deprived of employment at Cincinnati as one of the consequences of the flood.

ILLAWARRA LEVEE, fifty miles above Vicksburg, broke on the night of the 18th inst. Many plantations in the neighborhood were overflowed.

WINDOM is said to have been bitterly disappointed over his defeat for re-election to the U. S. Senate from Minnesota. It is not surprising that a man who could save so much out of a Senatorial salary should have felt pretty sore at having his salary cut off.

ARKANSAS is doing all she can to become popular. Both Houses of her Legislature have by great majorities adopted a resolution submitting a constitutional amendment repudiating the railroad, levee and Haldor bonds, and it is expected the people will vote affirmatively. The bonds represent about $12,000,000, or all but $3,000,000 of the State debt.

ILLINOIS has a law which requires all Judges of Courts of record inferior to the Supreme Court to make annual reports to the Supreme Court of any defects or omissions in the laws if their experience suggests any. These reports must be submitted to the Governor for the information of the General Assembly accompanied by a bill to meet the wants suggested.

A COMMITTEE of the Indiana Legislature is considering a novel amendment to the law governing the term of "life imprisonment." The idea is, instead of an actual imprisonment for life to substitute a term of years representing an average life, and allow the prisoner commutation from this for good conduct, as is now the case in lighter sentences.

THE reasons why the Democrats oppose the passage of the Internal Revenue Bill now before Congress are thus stated by Mr. Carlisle: "First, because it is an effort of the Republicans to extricate themselves from an awkward dilemma they are in by their failure to pass the Tariff Bill this session; second, that the bill does not do away with the large army of government employees and expenditures, as it costs as much to collect an eight-cent tax as sixteen cents per pound on tobacco, and that the passage of the bill makes the tobacco tax of eight cents perpetual; and third, that the Tariff and Internal Revenue should be legislated upon together, and Republicans aim to pass the present bill to lessen public interest in tariff legislation by the next Congress, and to put the influence of the banks against the same, because they get all they ask for by the present bill."

THE Chicago Cheek prints the following: The Chicago News says that Gen. Grant, the "great citizen," is again coming to the front as a candidate for the Presidency. In view of the fact that it makes no difference who runs on the Republican ticket for that office there can be no possible objection to it. No man can ever again be elected President of the United States on a Republican platform. We feel just as badly as anybody perhaps more so than the mercenary sharks who have killed the party, but the truth is cold, hard and unyielding. That party has sinned away the day of grace. Saltpeter can't save it any more than Star Route Dorsey can save Indiana. The knell which was struck last November will re-echo long after 1884.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.
ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880.

Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours,

P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have two bone spavins with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure,' one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a very deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO. Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

Sabina Layton, to Lewis Brambel, grantor's interest in fifty-one acres of land, consideration, $11.

W. L. Moran and wife to Benjamin Moran, fourteen acres of land, in Charleston Bottom, consideration, $1,750.

Howorth's Hibernica.

This well known and popular Comedy Company, which our citizens will remember to have visited this city last fall, has engaged the Opera House and will appear there next Friday evening. The troupe, which has always been good, is much strengthened this season by the addition of popular specialty performers, among whom is Bryan O'Lynn, the Irish comedian, who will appear in new songs dances and entertaining specialties. Miss Sadie McGill, the popular vocalist and dancer, Miss Annie Irish, Harry Hill, Wm. Ashton, the great facial artist, Frank Duffy, Fred. Russell and others equally favorably known are members of the company. The following is from the Boston Post:

The unanimous verdict of the large audience that was entertained by this company last night is that it was a very superior combination, one that combines more instruction with the greatest amount of innocent fun than any that has ever visited us. A pleasing comedy runs through the whole performance, which is ever and anon enlivened by acts of specialty men and women of a very high order of merit. The whole company are hard to beat, and to those who love fun we unequivocally recommend Howorth's Hibernica. A big feature of the entertainment is sixty panoramic views of noted places in Ireland, very cleverly explained. Each picture is the work of an accomplished artist and this part is alone worth many times the price of admission. We hope Mr. Howorth will find it convenient to visit us again, when we promise him an audience that will put standing room at a premium.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mr. Thomas Y. Nesbitt is visiting his relatives at Owingsville.

Mrs. James Nicholson, we regret to say, is very sick with bilious remittent fever.

Mr. C. M. Browning, who is now traveling for the firm of R. Wurlitzer & Co., of Cincinnati, was in Maysville on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnahan, of East Maysville, returned home yesterday, after a week's visit to relatives at Flemingsburg.

Dr. A. G. Browning, of Mt. Gildead, a physician of long experience and a cultivated gentleman, will remove with his family to this city about the first of the coming month with the view of practicing his profession here. We take pleasure in welcoming him to Maysville.

Drowned.

Isaac Moore, colored, was drowned in the river a short distance above the water works pump house, about five o'clock on Monday afternoon. In company with Hord Loughridge, also colored, he was rowing up stream in a john-boat, which was heavily weighted down with coal. The boat upset about twenty feet from the shore, and Moore, who was unable to swim, was drowned before he could be aided by several persons on the steamer Resolute, who witnessed the accident. His companion saved himself by clinging to the shore line of the steamer, which, fortunately, happened to be within reach. The deceased, who leaves a wife and child, is said to have been an industrious, hard-working man. His body was not recovered.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Engineer Fatally and Two Other Persons Slightly Wounded.

The boiler at Porter & Bro.'s saw mill on E. Myall's place, near Maysville, exploded on Monday afternoon and completely wrecked the mill. The engineer, whose name we have not been able to learn, is supposed to have been fatally injured and two other persons slightly hurt. The explosion shook the buildings at Maysville as an earthquake would have done. The fire-basket of the furnace, which weighed 1,500 pounds, was thrown a distance of more than a hundred yards.

COUNTY POINTS.

MAYSVILLE.

Miss Ann Clary is visiting friends in Maysville.

Isaac F. Chancellor's sale takes place on next Saturday.

The DAILY BULLETIN is becoming very popular in this community.

Michael Walton, Sr., was fined $5 and cost for passing the toll gate above this place and refusing to pay his toll.

J. F. Broderick, of Maysville, was circulating among his many friends here last week trying to do them good.

E. Liter, near Helena Station, or on the Upper Blue Lick road, has sold his farm to Lee Thomas. Price not known.

A. G. Wilson has disposed of his two pet coons, they were ten years old and very large horses. Mr. Williams is now the happy owner.

We have heard it stated by those who claim to know that Miss Lilly Blanchard, of Washington, owns a horse possessed with more sagacity and presence of mind or in short has more sense than any horse in the State.

The completion of the turnpike from this place to Johnson's Station on Kentucky Central Railroad was let last Saturday, to some party from Mt. Olivet.

Alexander Duke sold his tobacco one crop to A. P. Gooding for $10 from the ground up, in stripping order, and the other crop to John B. Raymond for $11, from ground up, in stripping order.

CORN WANTED.—Robinson & Co., of the Maysville City Mills, desire to buy ten thousand bushels of corn for which they will pay the highest cash price. j5.

J. A. JACKSON & SON, of Maysville, are the sole agents in that place for all of J. C. Ayer & Co.'s celebrated patent medicines and many other valuable preparations, among them T. B. Smith's Kidney Tonic. Call and get a bottle. f17.

AYNA'S Sarsaparilla is the best medicine for every one in the Spring. Emigrants and Travelers will find in it an effectual cure for the eruptions, boils, pimples, eczema, etc., that break out on the skin—the effect of disorder in the blood caused by sea-diet and life on board ship.

It is a good rule to accept only such medicines as have, after long years of trial, proved worthy of confidence. This is a case where other people's experience may be of great service, and it has been the experience of thousands that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best rough medicine ever used.

Eliza Allen was fatally burned at Washington, Pa., Friday.

A young and good looking widow was assaulted, chloroformed and robbed at Flushing, Long Island, a few nights ago.

RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL.

A lady by the name of Rev. Mrs. Woodrow, of Hutchinson, Kan., has been licensed to preach the Universalist doctrine.

—Those girls who break down in the public schools are not, usually, the ones who get up in the morning and make their own beds, dust their rooms and help wash dishes.—Boston Traveller.

—Henry Ward Beecher has looked over several Sunday school libraries, and it is his candid opinion that eighteen books out of every twenty are too bushy for any intelligent child to read.—N. Y. Post.

—A preacher at Henderson, Ky., who was disturbed by whispering in church during services, had the offenders pulled up before the city court and fined. The fines ranged from $20 to $30 apiece.—Chicago Times.

—In the course of a recent discussion in St. Louis on school discipline one speaker deprecated the usual death-like stillness of the school-room, asserting that he had found the rooms having a business-like buzz doing the best work.

—Mr. W. T. Harris, in a recent address in New Haven, declared that in his experience of examining several hundred applicants for the position of teachers in the public schools, he had always found those who were proficie ent in the study of grammar the best teachers.—New Haven Register.

—The church in London of which Rev. Newman Hall is pastor has 1,123 members, and nearly 6,000 scholars in the 13 Sunday schools. There are 17 societies for temperance and home and foreign mission work. The church building cost about $300,000. The Lincoln tower, which is a conspicuous feature, was built by American donations.

—The whole amount contributed by the churches of this country annually for benevolent and congregational purposes is $106,962,000. Of this large sum the amount collected for purely benevolent purposes is $31,339,140. The amount contributed for church purposes, meaning thereby the maintenance of the church, sustaining the ministry, etc., is $75,352,866.—The Advance.

—China has but one missionary to every 1,000,000 of its population. An eminent missionary writes that the great demand is for two new missionaries. All the women of China are Buddhists, and as such, are very devout. As women, there is no chance for them to go to Heaven. Their only chance is that if they are good here they may be sent back to earth as men, and thus be allowed a chance of reaching Heaven.—Chicago Tribune.

Why He Tramped.

“Why don’t you go West?” demanded the man, after telling a tramp that he had no small change and could not respond to his appeal for aid. “I’ve been out there.” “Why didn’t you stay?” “Cause I lost my all.” “What all did you have?” “Stranger,” said the old man, as he leaned back and wiped his forehead. “I went to Illinois with $6,000 in cash. I went into the business of raising frogs for the market. There was every show that I would clear $10,000 the first year, when a climax knocked me plumb-center all in one night.” “What was it?” “I had 23,000 frogs on my farm, and every darned jumper got up and jumped over on another man’s land.” “They did?” “Did for a fact, and, as I hadn’t branded a single one of them, I couldn’t identify my property. That’s what broke me all up, and I’ve come East to see about getting up a machine to scratch a hog’s back—something that will permit the hog to scratch himself. If you can spare me ten cents to help me—” He got it with out further explanation.

—A newly-married Iowa farmer, whose blissful slumbers were dispelled by the tin horns and horse fiddles of a “charivari” party, put to disastrous flight the disturbers of his peace by overturning among them, half a dozen bee-hives. The proverbial industry of the pugnacious insects proved more effectual than shot-guns or hot water.—Chicago Journal.
